Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
 - If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
 - If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
 - Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit: 1761

Claims 1-5 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over "Fannie Farmer Cookbook" in view of Froehlich et al for the same reason set forth in the previous office action.

Claims 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the cookbook in view of Froehlich et al as applied to claims 1-5 and 8 above, and further in view of Alexander et al and Kobussen et al for the same reason set forth in the previous office action.

In the response filed 3/5/2004, applicant argues the cookbook does not disclose or suggest to use edible string and the Froehlich et al does not overcome the defects since there is not disclosure or suggestion for its use in a truss. This argument is not persuasive. Froehlich et al disclose the edible string can be used in any meat product wherein the meat is tied or held with a string during cooking. The cookbook teaches to truss a chicken so that it is held in place during cooking using a string. It would have been obvious to use the edible string of Froehlich et al so that the string does not have to be removed. Froehlich et al also disclose other benefits. Thus, Froehlich provides ample reasons for why one would use the edible string instead of the inedible string taught by the cookbook. As to the configuration, it is not clear what configuration applicant is referring to. The string disclosed by Froehlich is twisted and the trussing as disclosed by the cookbook does maintain the legs closed to the breast.

Applicant's arguments filed March 5, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

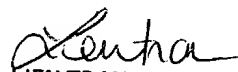

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
